

WELCOME

As the Pittsburgh Cultural Trust's recently appointed President & CEO. I am thrilled to welcome you to the Cultural District for the 64th annual Dollar Bank Three

While growing up in Scranton, PA, and later as a student at Duguesne University, I visited the Cultural District numerous times and experienced arts and entertainment events that I will never forget. I began to observe the power of the arts in this very neighborhood. While away from Pittsburgh during the last 26 years, serving in leadership roles at arts organizations across the country, my appreciation for this special place only deepened. The Pittsburgh Cultural Trust has a regional, national, and international reputation for employing the arts as a community builder and economic catalyst that is emulated by cities around the world.

This iconic festival, free and open to everyone, is now in its 15th year as a production of the Pittsburgh Cultural Trust. It exemplifies our commitment to serving our community. On behalf of the Pittsburgh Cultural Trust team, thanks to the hundreds of talented artists. volunteers, community partners, and philanthropic supporters who make this festival possible. Thanks, especially, to Dollar Bank for their stalwart support as presenting sponsor of this incredible Pittsburgh tradition.

Kendra Whitlock Ingram President & CEO Pittsburgh Cultural Trust

Dollar Bank is excited to be the Presenting Sponsor of the Dollar Bank Three Rivers Arts Festival for the 22nd consecutive year

As a community bank, Dollar Bank continues to focus on empowering and investing in our region, by supporting programs and events that bring all our communities together. We encourage everyone to visit the Cultural District to experience this incredible event and support all the talented artists and performers.

There are so many wonderful attractions at this year's Festival and we hope you'll find the time to visit more than once, while taking note of all the restaurants and retailers who are ready to welcome you downtown.

We want to congratulate the Pittsburgh Cultural Trust on curating a vibrant and welcoming Festival every June that delivers 10 days of art and music. Dollar Bank and the other sponsors take great pride in keeping this wonderful event free and open to all.

Community members supporting each other is what makes this city and region a great place to live, work, and play. We hope you and your families have a wonderful time at this year's Festival and I look forward to seeing you downtown.

James J. McQuade President and CEO

Happy Summer, Pittsburgh!

I am so pleased that the 64th annual Dollar Bank Three Rivers Arts Festival, a production of the Pittsburgh Cultural Trust, will offer another one of the most diverse lineups of performing and visual arts attractions in Festival history where hundreds of artists will convene for 10 days of live music, dance, theater, gallery exhibitions, public art, creative activities, and the Artist Market-free and open to everyone. Last year we had a new-look location in the heart of downtown Pittsburgh's Cultural District, and we learned a lot. Since then we listened to feedback from lots of folks — district partners, neighbors, the City, public safety, artists, performers and you, the guests - and we made some changes. We're still in the Cultural District and we've rearranged a bit for hopefully an even better experience for all

The Festival footprint this year is centered on Fort Duquesne Boulevard, along the Allegheny River. We're excited to expand on the successful 2021 Allegheny Overlook, connecting it to The Backyard at 8th and Penn sponsored by the Giant Eagle Foundation which launched in 2022. I hope you'll feel at home in this layout. Stay connected with the Pittsburgh Cultural Trust for news on upcoming visual, performing, and culinary arts events that will make the Backyard a hot spot for residents and visitors through September!

Continuing the evolution to the Festival took a lot of work and collaboration and I want to thank the supporting individuals, foundations, corporations, and Flyspace Productions for helping to make it all possible. On behalf of the Pittsburgh Cultural Trust and our Festival Advisory Committee, I gratefully acknowledge Dollar Bank for their incredible leadership and generosity. I thank the artists, my Trust colleagues, and the volunteers whose passion for the arts continues to strengthen the Festival. I also thank our neighbors in the Cultural District — restaurants, residents. schools, and businesses — for their flexibility and support. Most of all, I thank you for being here to celebrate the arts with our entire community. Have a wonderful Festival!
